ANGELSTREET.COM AND NETCHEMISTRY LAUNCH ONLINE MARKETPLACE FOR ANGEL INVESTORS.

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif., March 4, 2001 - NetChemistry, a top-tier provider of mission-critical, highly secure Private and Public Offering platforms to the Financial Services Sector, today announced that AngelStreet.com has successfully launched NetChemistry's Private Offering Platform for the funding of small to medium sized companies by Angel investors.

Traditional equity groups focus on institutional investors, yet by doing this they are ignoring a broad base of qualified individual investors. AngelStreet.com is changing this: private equity investments will no longer be the exclusive domain of venture capitalists and institutional investors. Harnessing the power of the Internet through NetChemistry's Online Offering Platform, AngelStreet.com enables individual investors to invest in private equity in a fully online process - viewing investment opportunities, researching companies and indicating interest. AngelStreet.com, with the help of NetChemistry's technology provides, finally, a cost-effective, secure and efficient way to bring private investors and the companies looking for investor together.

As investors become more comfortable with online-based capital raising there is a growing demand for new products. This new service has taken advantage of changing attitudes among investors, capitalizing on the growing demand for a web-based equity offering platform.

About AngelStreet.com

AngelStreet.com provides investors with access to private equity opportunities that have traditionally only been available to institutional investors. Initially this means early-stage growth companies; the kind that power our economy and have the potential to deliver astonishing returns, but too often struggle to find the funding they need at this crucial stage. Harnessing the power of the Internet, AngelStreet.com provides an online platform where investors can view and research companies and participate in direct equity on AngelStreet.com.
